

Truth is tough. It will not break like a bubble at a touch; nay, you may kick it about all day like a football, and it will be round and full at evening.

~ Oliver Wendell Holmes

Test everything.

~ 1 Thessalonians 5:21

What is essential Christianity! From first to last it is scandal, the divine scandal (skandalon). Every time someone risks scandal of high order there is joy in heaven.

~ Soren Kierkegaard, Journals

"Jesus seemed to specialize in using shock therapy with the religious. He was fearless in putting His divine finger on the faults of the faithful. He did not sugarcoat His message."

~ Tom Harvestol

I've always considered Christ to be one of the greatest revolutionaries in the history of humanity.

~ Fidel Castro

A man who claimed to speak for God, but who taught that significant parts of God's law were not valid? Horrendous!

~ E.P. Sanders

I reject the misconception popular in certain pseudo-religious circles that Jesus was passionless, mild, weak. How pathetic and how utterly unsupported by the earliest historical records.

~ Luis Palau

Christendom has rejected Christianity.

~ David McCracken

From the standpoint of literary evidence, the only logical conclusion is that the case for the reliability of the New Testament is infinitely stronger than for any other record of antiquity.

~ Howard Vos

Act just once in such a manner that your action expresses that you fear God alone and man not at all – you will immediately in some measure cause a scandal.

~ Soren Kierkegaard, Journals and Papers

It is not enough to have the courage of your convictions, you must also have the courage to have your convictions challenged.

~ Nietzsche

Follow me.

~ Jesus
