

*Exposing the lies
our culture tells us.*

Lie #3: Knowledge Is Power

You are a Christian only so long as you constantly pose critical questions to the society you live in, so long as you stay unsatisfied with the status quo and keep saying that a new world is yet to come.

~ Henry Nouwen

How we use our possessions is a more accurate reflection of the maturity and condition of our soul than the underlining in our Bible.

~ Paul Hubble

The worst possible thing we can do is to bring God into the mix without shifting our focal point away from the temporal.

~ Mark Tabb

Ours is a society where people know the price of everything, but the value of nothing – where people have a great deal to live on, but very little to live for.

~ Randy Alcorn

Next to knowing when to seize an opportunity, the most important thing in life is knowing when to forego an advantage.

~ Benjamin Disraeli

Our wealth is not neutral. It is not sterile or inanimate. It is alive with spiritual power; it seeks to possess us.

~ Richard Foster

The direct use of power against a Power will inevitably be to the advantage of The Powers That Be. We must be more creative than that.

~ Walter Wink

Our culture tells us that knowledge is power. I don't think so. I've met too many educated idiots.

~ Robert Bilmont

They say knowledge is power. But where does that leave the pursuit of wisdom?

~ Michelle Murray

The only cure for the love of power is the power of love.

~ Sherri McAdam

Love demands that power be used for the good of others.

~ Richard Foster

When Christ calls a man, he bids him come and die.

~ Dietrich Bonhoeffer

Power can be an extremely destructive thing in any context, but in the service of religion it is downright diabolical. Religious power can destroy in a way that no other power can.

~ Richard Foster

Now this is eternal life: that they know you, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom you have sent.

~ Jesus