How is one to live a moral and compassionate existence when one is fully aware of the blood, the horror inherent in life, when one finds darkness not only in one's culture but within oneself?

~ Barry Lopez

No man chooses evil because it is evil; he only mistakes it for happiness, the good he seeks.

~ Benjamin Disraeli

When we look on the world and declare it is a mess, we have only ourselves to blame. We humans, not the beavers or dolphins or owls, have created the problems that threaten our existence. The hope we have is that if we made the choices that got us into this situation then we can set a new course, make new choices and turn this all around. Of course, this requires that our new choices are truly better choices and that we stick with those choices with the same fervor and consistency as those that got us into this mess.

~ Kim Francis

How we spend our days is, of course, how we spend our lives.

~ Annie Dillard

If I were to wish for anything, I should not wish for wealth and power, but for the passionate sense of the potential, for the eye which, ever young and ardent, sees the possible. Pleasure disappoints, possibility never.

~ Soren Kierkegaard

Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed people can change the world. Indeed, it is the only thing that ever has.

~ Margaret Meade

You are the light that gives light to the world.

A city that is built on a hill cannot be hidden.

And people don't hide a light under a bowl.

They put it on a lamp stand so the light shines for all the people in the house.

In the same way, you should be a light for other people.

Live so that they will see the good things you do and will praise your Father in heaven.

~ Jesus
