

Part 5: Humble Apologetics

All Christians must be ready and able to give a reasonable defense of their faith. They need not be apologists or theologians, but every Christian ought to be able to clearly explain his or her own reasons for being a Christian.

~ Linda K Taylor
Life Application New Testament Commentary

Reason is a friend to faith. We cannot avoid reasoning. We can only avoid doing it well.

~ Peter Kreeft
Handbook of Christian Apologetics

There is a very close relationship between apologetics and evangelism. One could say that apologetics is simply evangelism done with the intellectual sophistication necessary for a specific situation.

~ James W Sire
A Little Primer on Humble Apologetics

If you want to grow in your abilities as an ambassador for Christ, you should look for opportunities to graciously trade ideas with someone who disagrees. Such give-and-take sessions are the single most powerful way to become skilled in communicating your faith.

~ Greg Koukl, Ambassador Basic Curriculum

We can present a defense of the Christian faith without becoming defensive. We can present arguments for Christianity without becoming argumentative.

~ William Lane Craig
On Guard: Defending Your Faith With Reason and Precision

The medium is the message.

~ Marshall McLuhan
